 ing to many people, the dam is unsafe.

BAND CONCERT.

Big Crowd Applauds the Numbers Given in Union Square.

The municipal band concert in Union square on Friday evening had one of the best evenings, weatherwise, of the series and there was one of the largest crowds out to hear the finely rendered selections.

The programme by Tubbs' band under Director John A. Swales was that appealed to the popular taste and many of the numbers were vic-tuously applauded by the throng that were gathered at all points of vantage to hear the music.

The concert continued through this month. It is expected that all of those to follow will be given on Union square, except, possibly, the one in roque week, which is usually given on the roque grounds.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Oliver R. Tracy.
 Mrs. Ada Mott Tracy, wife of Oliver R. Tracy, one of the prominent residents of this town of Franklin, died Thursday at her summer home at Westhampton Beach, L. I. She had been in ill health for several years and a half, but her sickness had been very serious only the last three weeks. To her circle of friends the death of this sweet spirited woman brings a deep sense of loss and to her husband and her family the weight of sorrow and grief.

Through her life Mrs. Tracy dwelt in the environment in which she was born, 63 years ago. She was the daughter of Charles Graves and Morgan Mott of Lebanon and in that community she made her home until she became the bride of Oliver R. Tracy 31 years ago last May. Since that time they have been respected residents of Franklin and there has been a fine type of the old New England home. Mrs. Tracy was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Bean Hill.

Surviving are her husband, one daughter, Mabel A. Tracy, and two sons, Oliver R. Tracy, Jr. and Harrington R. I. and Mrs. Matilda Fargo of Norwich. There are nephews and nieces in this city, in Boston and in Providence.

George L. Rogers.
 George L. Rogers died Friday at his home in Montville in his eighty-ninth year. He was born in Groton on Christmas day, 1825, and spent a large part of his life in Montville, where he engaged in farming. He was a devoted member of the church and a contemporary of John W. Whitcomb, the founder of New London, who succeeded him in 1860, building a stone house on the site of the Winthrop school.

Mr. Rogers is survived by his wife, whose maiden name was Miss Fletcher of Walden, and who is now 84 years of age. Two daughters, Mrs. William E.
 Stodard and Mrs. Ella Tilton, of New London; six grandchildren, Winifred A. Stodard, of Popponess, Miss Bertha Tilton, of Foxboro, Mass., Mrs. J. P.
 Sexton, of Merton Stoddard of New London and three great grandchildren, Blanche and William Stoddard and Marjorie Ella Sexton, are living. He was the son of Lyman and Timira (Turner) Rogers, the only remaining member of the family is his brother, Hiram, a resident of New London, who is now visiting his daughter in South Glastonbury.

Mr. Rogers conducted the old Gilead farm in Waterford for 25 years and was one of the earliest supporters of the Gilead chapel organization, founded by the late Henry P. Haven. He was an assessor in that town for several terms.

TO CONSTRUCT BEQUEST WILL

Superior Court Asked to Determine What Jennie Whipple Meant to Convey—New London Property of Former Norwich Woman Involved—Question About Real Estate

Thomas Howe, administrator, appeared before Judge Milton A. Shumway in the superior court where Friday morning, asking for the construction of a clause of the will of the late Jennie Whipple, at one time a resident of this city. Mr. Howe was represented by Attorney C. Hadall Hull.

The construction of the will is sought in a suit brought by the administrator against Miss May Maher of New London. In her will the testator bequeathed to her a house and lot in Jefferson avenue opposite the house owned by Capt. William H.
 Miller, known as Pleasant View. Miss Maher was represented by Attorney John C. Geary.

The property owned by Miss Whipple in Jefferson avenue consisted of a lot, on which stood the house in question, and another empty lot adjoining. The question is whether Miss Whipple, in her bequest, intended to give only the house and lot, or whether she intended to give the adjoining lot as well. The matter is further complicated by the fact that Capt. Miller was given three or four houses opposite the property involved, all of which are designated Pleasant View.

Morris B. Payne, civil engineer, testified to being shown a plan of the property in question by the administrator, showing the location of the house and lot in question.
 The plan showed the lot in question as being divided into two lots, one of which was designated Pleasant View.

Further hearing on the matter will be held Monday, Aug. 24, when more evidence will be taken. The case will be heard by Judge Shumway.

When the court came in the first case called up was that of the Allen-Beaman Receiver Permanent.
 Edmund A. Beaman, receiver, was appointed receiver of the property of the Allen Beaman company, now in the hands of Edmund A. Beaman, receiver.
 The case will be heard by Judge Shumway.

White Cross Council.
 Confers First Degree.
 Knights of Columbus Foresee Exemplification of Major Degree This Fall.

White Cross council, No. 13, K. of C., held their regular meeting Friday night. A large number of members were present and the first degree of the order was conferred upon a large number of candidates. The degree team of the council, in planning for the active work of the order, are considering holding an exemplification of the third or major degree during the early part of September. A good sized class is eligible to receive this degree and are being prepared for reception. During the summer months the council holds only one meeting a month, and the first meeting of the order will be held on Friday night September.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.
 Rearranging Locker Rooms—Men and Boys to Be in Separate Rooms.

At the Y. M. C. A. building improvements are now under way and will continue for several weeks as the result of the work of the committee. The new locker rooms, which are at the association's gymnasium, will be so rearranged that there will be a locker room for each sex.
 The older men and the boys have shared the same locker room, but the new scheme will provide for the former a room of their own about 14x12 feet with pleasant ventilation and the boys will also be more conveniently provided for.

General Secretary Edwin Hill is passing a part of his vacation in Providence and his family will join him there the first of the coming week.

INJURIES SEVERE.
 Mrs. Paulsen in Bed and Unable to Raise Her Head.

Henry A. Paulsen stated Friday night that he desired to correct the statement that his wife became com-fused in the automobile accident in which she was injured at Falls avenue.
 He said that it was his wife's head which was injured and that his wife was unable to raise her head.

FUNERAL.
 John Edward Alquist.
 Funeral services for John Edward Alquist were held at his late home, No. 187 Mount Pleasant street, on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A large number of relatives and friends were present, including people from New York, Bridgeport, New Haven and New London.

Rev. J. Eldred Brown was the officiating clergyman and the bearers were Ansel, Frank and John O. Johnson and William Brock. There was a procession of flowers. Burial was in the family plot at Maplewood cemetery and Rev. Mr. Brown read a commital service at the grave. Undertaker C. A. Gager was in charge of the funeral.

Returns After Vacation Here.
 Rev. Dr. Matthias S. Kaufman, who has been here spending the summer, returned on Friday to his home in Providence. While in this city he visited the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, where for six years he was pastor.
 In revisiting the city he found a warm welcome from his former parishioners and other friends among the citizens and upon his departure on Friday he fervently expressed his pleasure and inspiration which had come to him through the kindness of Norwich friends.

Ruled Out.
 Queen Mary of England does not approve of subterfuges or women's taking sides in the government. The prime minister found it necessary to decline discussing vital affairs of state in the presence of the queen.
 She cannot be expected to be more consistent than other women—Baltimore American.

ANOTHER WOMAN BROKE UP HER HOME.

Mrs. Caroline L. Vars Obtained Divorce from George W. Vars.

In the superior court here on Friday morning there was one uncontro-verted divorce case on the list that was heard and Mrs. Caroline L. Vars of Gale Ferry was given a divorce from George W. Vars of Groton on the grounds of desertion. She was asked for alimony in her petition, but she did not press that claim in court. She was also given permission to resume her maiden name of Caroline L. Mellow.

She testified that she was married to Mr. Vars in Waterbury on June 17, 1892, by Rev. M. J. Shaller. She showed the marriage certificate in court in a pretty booklet with Biblical and poetical quotations printed in different colors. Mrs. Vars testified that a woman named Marion Church was the one that had broken up her home. She had a picture of her which was shown to the other witnesses in the case.

She testified that her husband left her for this woman and that she found her husband on board a tug in contention with the woman. "When the went on board she confronted her using and the woman, endeavoring to the latter as the woman who had caused her all her trouble. The woman landed at that time Mr. Vars had asked the women to shake hands, saying they ought to be friends. Mrs.
 Vars asked her husband how he could expect her to do any such thing.

Later he had been taken ill in a home in Bank street, New London, and when she had gone there to take care of him she had found the clothing of a woman hung in the closets. The woman with whom she had found him on the tug had come there.

Other witnesses who testified were Nancy Lockman, Fred Carver, a New London boatman, and Manual J. Martin, deputy sheriff. He told of seeing Vars and the Church woman together in New London.

ATTACHED BY MAN
 IN BERRY LOT
 Trading Cove Woman Beat Off Her Assailant With Berry Pail.

Neighbors and friends were scouring the woods and fields in the neighborhood of trading cove and Mon-ran on Friday afternoon in search for a man who attacked Mrs. Charles A.
 Perce of Trading Cove while she was out berrying in the lot, but was successfully beaten off by the woman's pail defense.

Some information of a man who answered the description of her assailant was received near Montville but no one was captured.

The man grabbed and apparently meant to do her harm, but she fought him off, beating him over the head with her berry pail, and when he ran away she came back to her home and spread the alarm.

The description given of her assailant was that he was tall and of sandy complexion, with a red face, sandy hair and a moustache. He was in his shirt sleeves and wore a cap.
